

FACE SCREEN design Pekka Toivola and Iiro Viljanen

The free-standing Face screen offers many opportunities for improving the functionality and acoustics of a work-space. The series includes parts in several widths and heights for easy combinations that suit any kind of space. The straightforward Face screens are also easy to modify if and when needed.

In addition to free-standing models, the Face series includes desk and benching screens to provide a consistent look even in spaces with several types of workstations.

Pekka Toivola was born in 1955 and graduated as industrial designer from the University of Art and Design Helsinki in 1980.
